

Catalogue of census declarations

The attached list of census declarations from Roman Egypt, brought up to date as of 1 November 1993,¹ has been produced according to a fixed scheme. Households are given numbers consisting of the digits of the first Julian year of the regnal year of the census, two letters designating the nome, and a (largely arbitrary) serial number within the group; they are organized in order of these household numbers, i.e. first by census, then by nome, then by household. Persons are given by status groups, and within these in the order in which they are given in the papyrus. Cross-reference numbers operate within the status group unless indicated otherwise, except that the declarant is always referred to as such except when ambiguity would result.

All returns that were used in generating the data base are marked in this Catalogue with an asterisk (*) at the beginning of the entry. We provide stemmata for households in which there is a kin relationship between two or more members, or in which a relationship can plausibly be restored. In the stemmata, a triangle denotes a male; a circle denotes a female; and a diamond means that the person's sex is unknown. We give the person's age where it is known or likely. Between persons, a solid line indicates that the relationship is considered secure; a broken line means that the relationship is reconstructed or uncertain.

All available texts have been examined on the original or a good reproduction, and the readings are—to the best of my ability to determine—correct or at least not capable of improvement by me. Those not seen are indicated. This examination has generated a substantial body of corrections, the more important of which are published in BASP in a series of articles called "Notes on Egyptian Census Declarations."² Smaller corrections needing no explanation are grouped in Appendix 1, organized by papyrus citation rather than household number (a # sign is placed after papyrus citations for which this is applicable). Appendix 2 gives a concordance of papyrus citations and household numbers. A vast number of minor changes, the result mainly of changes in the way papyrologists used brackets in the infancy of the field and the way they are used now, are not included; none of these has any material effect on the data. As the annotation of the entries in the catalogue shows, my attempts to improve these texts rest upon a very large base of such improvements by others. The ungrateful task of correcting my betters has been a sufficient demonstration for me of editorial fallibility, as well as of the value of assembling parallels. I am under no illusion that the texts as corrected are perfect.

¹ The data analysis takes into account only additions and changes up to 15 September 1993.

² I: BASP 27 (1990) 1–14; II: BASP 28 (1991) 13–32; III: BASP 28 (1991) 121–33; IV: BASP 29 (1992) 101–15; V: BASP 30 (1993) 35–56.

The weary labor of checking all these texts has been made possible and even, in many cases, pleasant by the help of those who made collections they are in charge of readily available to me and who restored and photographed the papyri I needed; those whose hospitality made my peregrinations to Berkeley, Chicago, Ann Arbor, Princeton, London, Oxford, Florence, Strasbourg, Milan, Berlin, Vienna, Paris, and Minneapolis in search of census declarations a string of happy memories; those who helped me track down wandering papyri; those who made unpublished material available or waived rights to texts; those who supplied photographs of the more scattered items for which I have not seen the original papyrus. Some of these debts are acknowledged piecemeal in articles, but it will not be amiss to record them here: Zaki Aly, Guido Bastianini, Alain Blanchard, Anthony S. Bliss, William Brashear, Revel Coles, Johannes Diethart, Andrea Donau, I. F. Fikhman, Daniele Foraboschi, Inger Louise Forselv, Traianos Gagos, Alessandra Gara, Jean Gascou, Giovanni Geraci, Dieter Hagedorn, Hermann Harrauer, Armin Hetzer, Eva Horváth, Janet Johnson, William Joyce, Ludwig Koenen, Sigrid Kohlmann, Nita Krevans, Manfredo Manfredi, Alain Martin, Joseph Mélèze-Modrzejewski, Paul Mertens, Béatrice Meyer, Georges Nachtergael, Sayed Omar, Bernhard Palme, Peter Parsons, Thomas Pattie, Rosario Pintaudi, Günter Poethke, Virginia Pratt, John Rea, Jacques Schwartz, Jean Straus, William Voelkle, and Klaas Worp. I hope I have not forgotten many. There are others too, who unknown to me have worked behind the scenes in many places. My thanks to all. [RSB]

The first person listed has a name ending in -ων, followed by μη(τρός) and the mother's name: an ἀπάτωρ, apparently, age not preserved. He is not the declarant, who lived in another house (so Wilcken, Chr. 201 introd.). Not enough of lines 12–13 is readable to determine if they concern the first person listed or, as seems more likely, a second person.

Discussion: Broken at left with substantial loss (about two-thirds), and damaged at bottom; complete at top and most of the right side. Assignment to census of 33 is uncertain, but it is probably not later. The declarants own but do not live in the house; they declare the family occupying it. The reconstruction of the latter is probable but not certain. Probably no persons are lost, but that too is not certain.

The ed. supposes a possible daughter listed in a damaged passage/lacuna in line 14, but the space seems insufficient for a full entry. Discussion: Damaged at both sides. The edition in CJud. contributes no improvements. There is a lacuna of 5 letters before the two women's names, but no compounds of these names are known, and we cannot tell what stood there (if anything). The uncompounded names are attested. The sequence and phrasing of nos. 5–6 would lead one to think that they were daughters of no. 3, but this clearly cannot be the case.

The relationships (and for the most part the sex) of the children are deduced from their position. This is an extract, most of which is lost at left; it is uncertain if it began on a preceding column. If a digit is in fact lost in no.9, this could be a slave rather than another child.

Prov., Date: Arsinoe, 104/5

Stemma:

Declarant: Athenais d. Isidoros (s. Asklepiades) and Ptolema alias Athenarion (d. NN alias Sarapion), daughter of a katoikos of the 6475, with as kyrios her husband NN s. Heliodoros (s. Euboulos) and Herakleia (d. He—)

Family members:

- (1) Athenarion (sic) [declarant], d. Isidoros (s. Asklepiades) and Ptolema alias Athenarion (d. NN alias Sarapion), age lost
- (2) NN s. Heliodoros (s. Euboulos) and Herakleia (d. He—), husband of Athenarion [declarant], katoikos, [56]
- (3) Heliodoros s. NN [no.2] and Athenarion [declarant, no.1], 8
- (4) Isidoros s. NN [no.2] and Athenarion [declarant, no.1], 1

Free non-kin, slaves: None

Verif./photo: P.Ashm.inv. 8; Pl. VIII; seen 4/4/1991.

Discussion: Complete at top and bottom, partially complete at left, substantial loss at right in most lines. The husband's age is restored from the date given for his epikrisis in year 9 of Nero, 62/3, presumably at age 14. The readings of the children's ages are secure, and confirmed by the dates of their registration at birth (also partially preserved).

- (2) Dioskoros ἄλλος ("another"), slave of Laberia d. Pasion and of Horaiane her sister (equal shares), 1
- (3) Isidora slave of Laberia d. Pasion and of Horaiane her sister (equal shares), 49
- (4) Dioskorous nicknamed Sarapous, slave of Laberia d. of Pasion and of Horaiane her sister (equal shares), 23

Discussion: Top lost, otherwise almost complete. Ed. describes Laberia as the declarant, but her place in the start of the list of women, after the men, shows that this is not correct. The declarant must have been her husband Theon, who is mentioned in her entry. The first, partly preserved, male entry is that of a renter; Theon and an unknown number of other free males appeared in the lost part of the declaration. This is an extract from the original. The date is inferred but virtually certain. See P.Harr. II pp. 52–53 and BASP 30 (1993) 36–38 for discussion.

Discussion: Virtually complete. The editors read the age of Horion [no.4] as 1 (α). 30 (λ) is equally possible. The age of Thenatymis [no.6], read by the editor as 31 ($\lambda\alpha$) and Youtie as 39 ($\lambda\theta$), looks most like 32 ($\lambda\beta$), but the second digit is probably a theta correcting some other letter (maybe beta). Broken at bottom with possible loss of additional persons. The editor does not restore the names of Pekysis (lines 12 and 21) and Herieus (line 4), but they appear inescapable, and the listing above assumes the correctness of these restorations.

Declarant: Hermas s. Diodoros (s. Harpalos) and NN

Family members: (1) Dioskoros s. Didymos

Free non-kin, slaves: None preserved

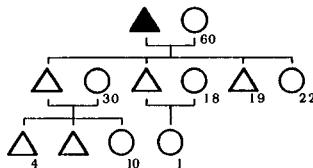

Verif./photo: Vienna, inv. G 24602; seen 25/4/1991.

Discussion: Broken at bottom and with varying losses at right. Copy of a declaration, appended to a declaration of birth. Hermas declares a property inhabited by renters. The declaration breaks off in the middle of the listing of the first of these.

Free non-kin, slaves: NoneVerif./photo: London, British Library, inv. 1570b; seen 3/4/1991.

Discussion: Broken at top and left. The provenance is based on the distinctively Arsinoite combination of names. The date is inferred, see the publication in Cd'E. This is apparently a copy from a register entry derived from a declaration. Some of the persons listed were included in the lost portion, where still others (probably males) may well have been listed. The reconstruction of the relationships is in some points very uncertain.

Family members: (1) Petosiris [declarant] s. Dionysios (s. Petosiris) and

(2) Ti— s. Petosiris [declarant] and Tetoeus (d.

(4) Papontos s. Thoonas (s. Petosiris) and Thaisous (d.

(currently absent), 57

(5) Tetoeus d. Thoonas (s. Petosiris) and Thaisous, sister of Papontos [no.4], wife of Petosiris [declarant], age lost

Free non-kin: None

Slaves:

(1) NN (name lost), 3[.]

(2) Thaeisis, purchased slave of Tetoeus [no.5], 3[.]

Verif./photo: Cairo, inv. JE 47492; photograph in Ashmolean, seen 5/4/1991.

Discussion: Fairly complete, but extensive minor damage throughout and badly abraded over much of the surface. We assume that the first-named male (line 16) is the declarant, and that his name is to be restored as the patronymic of Ti— (line 17). We also restore Tetoeus as the name of the only free female person registered (line 25). It is not clear what the relationship of Apollonides [no.3] is to the others. Petosiris declares another house, unoccupied. Another person is listed in line 32, but the situation is unclear.

Discussion: In two columns, apparently an extract or extracts. Col. i is broken at the left and the entire papyrus at the bottom. The relationship of the two is unclear, but a great deal is lost in col. i, which gives no connected sense. It seems best to consider only col. ii, children whose parents were mentioned earlier. All of the children are described as $\mu\eta(\tau\rho\delta\varsigma) \tau\hat{\eta}\varsigma \alpha(\bar{v}r\hat{\eta}\varsigma)$.

Discussion: Only the upper part is preserved, breaking off just after kai eimi; above it on the papyrus is 145-Ar-6. Broken also at left and right. The identification of the declarant as female is based on the placement of the name Diodoros, which must be part of the name of a kyrios, not an ascendant of the declarant.

Discussion: Broken at the top, with loss of listings for nos. 1–5 (nos. 1–2 reconstructed from other information in text); some damage at left. The ed.

supposes that no.10 is daughter of Ptolous by another husband, but that is not likely. The two children of Heliodoros and Ptolous whose ages survive are 15 and 20; Dionysios is 20 and has a different mother, and Heliodoros [no.2] is probably around 25 like his wife. [Tne]pherois was probably Heliodoros' first wife, and Ptolous his second; no.10 is probably Heliodoros' daughter, with the surviving text carefully indicating the mother's identity. Age rounding is rampant; no one over 5 has an age not divisible by 5, a fact which makes the existence of two children aged 20 by different mothers less surprising.

Discussion: Complete at right, only date and subscription lost at foot, but torn at right and top. Probably no declared persons are totally lost. A line between 175 and 176 completed the declarant's entry but is ignored by the editor because all is lost at left. Persons 4 and 5 are listed apparently in a separate section, and their relationship to the others is not clear. What lines 183–187 contained is still less clear, perhaps just property. The editor read the age of no.4 as .θ; the first letter is iota.

Discussion: Copy of a copied extract of a declaration, followed by another including only nos. 5, 7, and 8 (145-Pr-1); complete but with scattered damage. The date of the cover letter is 24/3/161. Some ages are omitted in this copy; those in brackets are computed from ages given in 145-Pr-1. There are some problems of identification and age (notably nos. 10 vs. 11). Wilcken resolves Καπίτω() in no.10 (not resolved by ed.) as Καπίτωνος. This is certainly possible, but her father's patronymic is not given, and Tertia often occurs with a second name (or as second name). Metallikos here probably means "quarry worker."

Herakleia reports that Herakles (and another son? One would suppose that τέκνα referred to sons in light of the following οἱ δὲ θυγατέρες) are registered (separately?), probably with her divorced husband (who is mentioned), while daughters Herakleia and Tapetesouchos are each registered with their own husbands. Youtie rejects ed.'s restorations making kyrios be the divorced husband, who is Herakles s. NN alias Areotes. Herakleia's age is presumably 40+ since she has 4 living children, 2 married.

Discussion: Substantial losses at right; broken at bottom. Part of the list of persons lost. The listing second of the slave suggests that there were no more family males declared, but it is impossible to say with certainty if the surviving names are those of family females or of renting males or females; the latter seems more likely given the order, and the explicit mention of enoikoi in the initial formula.

Verif./photo: Berlin, formerly Neutestamentliches Seminar. The papyri of this collection were destroyed during World War II (information from W. Brashear).

Discussion: Broken at left with substantial loss; complete elsewhere. This is a declaration of renters of a house belonging to the declarant. The free person NN [no.7] may be the Aphrodisios who is the owner of some or all of the slaves. Meyer restored the age of the first family member as [7]3, arguing that ὑπερετής had to mean “over the age for liturgies,” which he claimed was 70, rather than “over the age of liability for taxes” (on the grounds that as a katoikos he was not liable anyway). This is not correct. In 131-Ar-12 (see Addenda) there is a ὑπερετής aged 61, which makes it clear that the reference is to the age of liability for taxes. Since a husband-wife age difference of 32 years here would be the highest known, though not by much, we take a restoration of [6]3 to be somewhat more likely than [7]3, but neither is excluded.

 - (5) Stotoetis d. Panephremmis (s. Paous), mother of Panephremmis [declarant?], 55
- Free non-kin:
- (1) Segathis d. Stotoetis the elder (s. Stotoetis) and Thases (d. Satabous), renter, [.].8

Slaves: None

Discussion: Complete except for minor holes. A copy. Of what Panephremmis is Stotoetis [no.5] the mother? The declarant's mother's father was Horos, not Panephremmis; no.2's mother was Thases. The latter is the more serious discrepancy. The editors read her age as 51 and no.1's as 40, rightly queried by Hombert and Préaux; that obstacle to her being the mother of no.1 is now removed. The age-difference, moreover, taken with the difference in names, does seem to exclude her being the mother of 2 and 3. The most probable solution is that her patronymic is given incorrectly in either the initial declaration or her entry.

Discussion: Dioskoros is Ptolemaios' son by Anoubiaina, who is described as his wife living with him; but she herself is not declared. Perhaps her legal residence is in the city of which she had citizen status. Sambathion presumably lives in other property in Theadelphia, which she lists as her idia, but she says that she has also registered in Apias, where we know that Ptolemaios had business interests. Dioskoros alias Heron ceased to live with his father in 155/6, cf. H.C. Youtie, ZPE 23 (1976) 131–38 = Scriptiunculae Posteriore I 375–82, but we do not know what age he was then; either 13 or 23 is possible, and thus either 3 or 13 here, where only the gamma survives.

Discussion: Copy of a copied extract of a declaration, preceded by another (131-Pr-1); complete but with scattered damage. The date of the cover letter is 24/3/161. As the editor's note points out, Thamistis is said in the two extracts to be the full sister of Anikos, thus daughter of Chentmouphis (Thenthnoupis in 131-Pr-1), but in the cover letter Anikos says she is his sister on the mother's side, and $\delta\pi\alpha\tau\omega\rho$. In Chentmouphis' age, it seems most likely that $\nu\beta$ is a copyist's misreading of $\nu\theta$, since beta and theta can look much alike.

Stemma:

Declarant: Herais d. Satabous (s. Phanomgeus) and Tanesneus (d. Pnepheros), with kyrios her father Satabous

Family members: (1) Herais [declarant] d. Satabous (s. Phanomgeus) and Tanesneus (d. Pnepheros), 16

(2) Satabous s. Phanomgeus (s. Phanomgeus) and Herais (d. Esouris), father of Herais [declarant], 44

(3) Tanesneus d. Pnepheros (s. Petesouchos) and Tasoucharion, mother of Herais [declarant], 39

(4) Tasoucharion d. Satabous [no.2] and Tanesneus [no.3], sister of Herais [declarant], 9

Free non-kin, slaves: None

Discussion: Damaged at right after line 16. There is no indication why Herais rather than one of her parents is the owner of the half-house in which they live. The declaration also reports two unoccupied houses owned by Tanesneus.

Discussion: Complete except for small holes. Declarant is a renter in house of Sarapion s. Sarapion (s. Hartotes). Cf. P.Lond. III 915, 159-Me-1, in which the declarant's father Apollonios files his own declaration as living in the same house. - Family members:
- (1) Ptollas [declarant] s. Sabeinos (s. Ptolemaios) and Vettia (d. Vettius), 48
 - (2) Harpokras s. Sabeinos (s. Ptolemaios) and Vettia (d. Vettius), brother of Ptollas [declarant], ἐν ἀναχωρήσι, 44

 - (7) Taos d. Ptolemaios (s. Pnepheros) and NN (d. Ptolemaios), 38
 - (8) Xanaris apator d. Taos [no.7], 12

Free non-kin:

- (1) Sarapias, freedwoman of Valerius Aphrodisios, soldier of Cohors I Eq. (brother of nos. 6 and 7), 30 (?)

Slaves:

- (1) Kopr[eia], slave of Sempronius Herminos (eques Alae Maur.), 40
- (2) Sarapias female offspring of Kopr[eia] [no.1], 20
- (3) Dioskoros offspring of Kopr[eia] [no.1], 6
- (4) Polydeukes nicknamed Eros, offspring of Kopr[eia], 4
- (5) Didyme, offspring of Sarapias [no.2], 4
- (6) Kastor offspring of Sarapias [no.2], 2 months

Discussion: Complete but with numerous small lacunae. It seems possible that either Valerius Aphrodisios, the patron of Sarapias the freedwoman, or Sempronius Herminos (owner of the slaves) was the husband as well as the brother of Taos and hence the actual father of Xanaris [no.8]; since as a soldier they could not marry, she would be officially fatherless (cf. Youtie, Hommages Préaux). Soeris and Taos are stated to be twins; they are called kin, συγγενεῖς, of the declarant. They cannot be the declarant's half-sisters, as neither parent is identical.

Discussion: The combined fragments are still missing text at left and below, as well as along the upper part of the right edge; it is also possible that a line is missing at the start. Column ii is 173-Ar-17. The declarant is registering property which belongs to a woman of whom he is phrontistes, probably named Didyme d. Sarapion, an aste (i.e., citizen of one of the Greek cities of Egypt). Too much is lost to ensure the precise reconstruction of the household. No.2 may be the ward Didyme, but the traces preceding the name do not suggest that.

Discussion: Complete. The order in which the brothers are given and his wife's age support the supposition that the scribe has simply omitted a mu in the age of no.7.

Discussion: Complete. See BASP 28 (1991) 17–19 for a detailed discussion of this text. The property was formerly that of Pantbeus, the (probably dead) father of Harendotes, whose mother is listed first even though he is the nominal declarant.

Discussion: Complete. As no relationship between the single occupant of the noubis and lot, owned by the declarants, and the latter is given, the occupant is presumably not a relative but a renter.

Discussion: Complete. P.Brux. gives a stemma, based on Bingen's arguments, showing the three non-resident declarants (sister and two nieces of Pantbeus). Thapeis [no.3] is of uncertain relationship to the other two residents; she is not the Thapeis who figures among the declarants.

Discussion: Complete. Nachtergael shows no.2 as the son of the declarant by a first husband Pnepheros s. Tithoennessis, and nos.5–6 as her sons by a second husband Pnepheros s. Tithoes. This seems an unnecessary multiplication of husbands; all three can perfectly well be by Pnepheros s. Tithoes. He also shows Areia [no.3] as the wife of Tithoennessis [no.2], something not stated by the declaration; nor does the declaration call Thermouthis [no.4] the daughter ἐξ ἀμφοτέρων (as with Dionysios, no.6).

Discussion: Many lacunae; minimum of about 20 letters lost at left, probably with some slaves lost. Broken at bottom; only date and subscription lost there. For the declarant, see the discussion of D. Hagedorn, P.Köln III 143.9–11n. He suggests that the Zoilos s. Zoilos of line 11 is the declarant's brother. But the persons declared later in the text are in the nominative, and Zoilos therefore cannot be among them. (This person could also be in the accusative; but not the genitive). Rather, Zoilos must be the father of the person declared. In that event it is unlikely (though not impossible) that he is the declarant's brother. We have adopted with hesitation the editors' view that this is the declarant's wife.

Discussion: Damaged at left, and smaller holes throughout. The persons listed under "non-kin" are described as renters by the declarant, but some of them are in fact related; quite possibly all were kin. The possible confusion in such a household can be seen in the presence of two 34-year old ραβδιστραι named Heron, or two Eirenes in their early 50s! Kin nos. 11 and 12 are described as twins.

Discussion: Broken at left (small loss), right (larger loss), and bottom (in the middle of the list of persons). Apion declares a house belonging to him, with its renters. Enough information is lost that the interrelationships of most of the renters cannot be determined, and it is possible that some of them are non-kin.

Discussion: Complete at right and much of left; damaged at top, at lower left, and at bottom, evidently with no loss of entries of persons. Multiple properties declared. Youtie rejects the editor's notion that the $\delta\piάτροες$ may have been children of Tapetheus, since her name is not connected to them. They are perhaps children of a deceased sibling of Petsoraipis or of some more distant relative. It seems likely enough that all three come from the same relationship.

Discussion: A copy of the declaration. Complete except at left, where there is a varying loss. Declarant notes that his son Xenophon by his divorced wife NN, an Antinoite (a different person from the mother of Didymos [no.3] above), is registered with his mother in Antinoopolis, and that her children by her divorced husband (not the declarant) are registered with their father. He thus has two divorced wives living (and she two divorced husbands). He also mentions a half share of two slaves, Isis alias Memphis and her son Sarapammon (age 6); the context is fragmentary, but they are apparently resident elsewhere. He states (line 17) that there are 7 slaves in his household. This piece is connected to P.Fam.Tebt., esp. no.48 (202/3), whence Sarapias' name is restored. Her age there (57) agrees with 43 here. Discussion: Three fragments, together missing the centers of most lines, the right ends of most lines, and the bottom, breaking off in the middle of listing persons. The ed. restores the daughter's name as Isarion and age as 22 on the basis of the appearance of an Isarion alias Sarapias, age 25, in SB VI 9618, but this seems insufficient. The restoration of the age of non-kin no. 1 is based on (partly restored) information that he underwent epikrisis in year 28, i.e. 187/8.

(3) NN s. Pakebkis [declarant] and NN, his deceased wife and the full sister of Thaesia [no.2], priest, age lost

Free non-kin: None

Slaves: (1) Eudaimonis, age lost

(2) NN offspring of Eudaimonis, age lost

Verif./photo: Florence, Biblioteca Laurenziana; seen 25/5/1989.

Discussion: All margins preserved, but there are large gaps in the center and right lower parts. There may be a slave preceding Eudaimonis and perhaps another child of Eudaimonis, but this cannot be determined. Pakebkis is exempt from capitation taxes, but whether for age or priesthood is not said.

HOUSEHOLD NO.: 201-Ar-3

Prov., Date: Tebtunis, 202/3

Declarant: Sarapias d. Patermouthis (s. Kronion) and Taorses, from the metropolis, with Herakleides her full brother as kyrios

Family members, free non-kin, slaves: None

Verif./photo: Florence, Istituto Papirologico, inv. 340; seen 25/5/1989.

Discussion: Complete except at bottom, but up to that point the declarant has listed only a house in Tebtunis in which no one is registered.

Free non-kin: Plural enoikoi.

Slaves: None

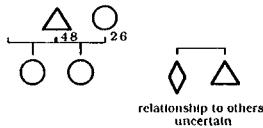

Verif./photo: W. Berlin, P.21612; seen 11/4/1991.

Discussion: Broken at left and below, with loss of all entries. The declarant is himself registered in another declaration; this one is only for renters of another property.

 - (2) Sabina d. Her[., wife of Heroninos [no.1], 26
 - (3) NN, d. Heroninos [no.1] and Sabina [no.2], age lost
 - (4) NN, d. Heroninos [no.1] and Sarapias, age lost

 - (6) Apollonios?, age lost

Free non-kin: None

Slaves: None preserved

Discussion: Broken at top and bottom; in two fragments, with some loss in the middle of all lines and some loss at right; breaks off in the middle of listing persons. Nos. 5 and 6 are the children of the same person, but it is unknown of whom. The phrontistes and his family are described as enoikoi of the owners, who apparently are in Alexandria.

- Family members:
- (1) Neilos s. Patron (s. Didymos) and Sarapias, weaver, 50
 - (2) Eudaimonis surnamed Kale, wife of Neilos [no.1], 44
 - (3) Helene d. Neilos [no.1] and Eudaimonis [no.2], declared with her husband Philosarapis in Antinopolis, age not given
 - (4) Sarapias d. Sabeinos (s. Kronion) and Eudaimonis, 57
 - (5) Tyrannis alias Isidora d. Sarapias [no.4], registered with her father Philantinoos alias Herodes in Antinopolis, age not given [14 or more]

Free non-kin: None

- Slaves:
- (1) Elpis slave of Sarapias, 26
 - (2) Sarapammon offspring of Isis alias Memphis, slave of Sarapias (half-share), 20

Discussion: Complete but with many small holes. The persons are renters of the property belonging to the declarants. Neilos and Eudaimonis are the parents-in-law of one of the owners, Sarapias the ex-wife of another owner. The owners declare two persons who were also declared elsewhere; where they were actually resident is not clear.

Longinos alias Zosimos also occurs in BGU I 97 (201-Ar-8) as the father of a one-year old daughter by Soeris (one of the persons declared there), but he is not living in that household. There is no indication of divorce in that document either.

Discussion: Broken at top with full identification of declarant and at bottom in the middle of list of persons. Broken at right with loss of all ages. The first two persons declared are followed by the phrase $\delta\nu\ \delta\eta\lambda(\hat{\omega})\ \tau\epsilon\tau\epsilon\lambda$ ($\epsilon\nu\tau\eta\kappa\epsilon\nu\alpha\iota$); the editors take these to refer to the mother's father, pointing out that "they can hardly refer to the persons named in ll. 9 and 12, since it is the rule for the name of the person making the return to stand first." But it is equally the rule that statements of this kind refer to the person entered, not to persons not involved in the declaration at all. Moreover, the earlier part of the declaration shows precisely that the father and father's father were the previous owners of the property. Despite $\check{\epsilon}\tau\iota\ \pi\alpha\lambda\alpha[\iota]$, the deaths may have been comparatively recent ($\check{\epsilon}\tau\iota\ \tau[\alpha\lambda\alpha\iota]$ is possible in line 11 also).

 (2) NN female offspring of Isidora [no.1], age lost (and status also lost)

Discussion: Complete except at bottom, where an entry or more have been lost.

The declaration also records that Taseus, another daughter of Horos [no.2], has died (age at death not stated). The declarant's age may or may not have had a second digit; there are no traces of one. The entry about Horos alias ..mes is very uncertain of reading and interpretation.

Discussion: Very fragmentary at top, broken at left and bottom (only end of subscription lost). Declarant refers to another declaration, possibly of property only but perhaps including other persons; she owns more than one house. We do not accept the correction to line 10 proposed in BL 8.206.

Discussion: Broken at bottom and right, some loss at left. Entire list of persons declared is lost; since the declarant says that he registered in another declaration, this is probably a list of renters of a property he owns. Free non-kin, slaves: None

Discussion: Very much mutilated, with losses at lower left, right center, and throughout. In the previous census Theognostos, though called Dioskorous' husband, was declared in the house of his brother Hermeinos (215-Hm-1), while Dioskorous declared her own house (215-Hm-2). The editor restored the age as 64 on the basis of a false reading in 215-Hm-1 (q.v.). Partial copies are found in P.Stras. VI 573 and in P.Lond. III 947 I i descr.

Discussion: Broken at left, and the surface obscured or abraded. Only partial transcript in Parsons' article. The first child's name is partly lost, but the patronymic is not Harendotes. No female members of the household are declared, and we cannot securely reconstruct the family history nor know why the younger child, evidently not the declarant's son, is listed before the older child.

Discussion: Extract from the εικονισμός of the census of 117/8, quoted in a dossier of documents (including a cession of real property) compiled for an unknown reason at a subsequent date. The names have, as is normal in a register, been rearranged from the order of the original declaration, such that males are listed in descending order of age, then females. In the original declaration, Kronous (here no. 3) would as declarant have come first. For this household fourteen years later, see 131-Ar-12. The name of Kronous' mother is given differently in the two declarations; the editor takes Kronous here to be an error. Konia (no. 6) is called Koniaina in 131-Ar-12.

Discussion: Extract from the εἰκονισμός of the census of 131/2, quoted in a dossier of documents (including a cession of real property) compiled for an unknown reason at a subsequent date. The names have, as is normal in a register, been rearranged from the order of the original declaration, such that males are listed in descending order of age, then females. In the original declaration, Kronous (here no. 3) would as declarant have come first. Another daughter of Apronios and Ammonous, Sempronia, was declared to have been married to Marcus Valerius Rufus, a centurion of a chort. For this household fourteen years earlier, see 117-Ar-12. The difference in ages recorded is 14 for two people, 13 for two, and 24 (probably an error for 14) for one.

Discussion: Extract from the εικονισμός of the census of 131/2, quoted in a dossier of documents (including a cession of real property) compiled for an unknown reason at a subsequent date. The names have, as is normal in a register, been rearranged from the order of the original declaration, such that males are listed in descending order of age, then females. In the original declaration, Sempronia Akousarion (here no. 2) would as declarant have come first. Ages were not given for the slaves, except for Crescens and Heron, because they are stated to have been included in another declaration by those who owned the remaining shares of them, probably the Gaius and Marcus Sempronius mentioned in lines 68-69. Cf. 117-Ar-12 and 131-Ar-12 for the other texts in this dossier.
